Richardson Groves place their pig...

At the Holburne Museum in Sydney Gardens, a short walk from their offices at the historic Cleveland House.

The decorated pigs are situated all over the City of Bath throughout the summer; there are 100 in total as part of a public art event to celebrate Bath, its origins and its artists. The Richardson Groves pig has been decorated by the artist Sophie Howard.

3 in a row for Richardson Groves - Theatre Royal 2008

For the 3rd year running Richardson Groves proudly sponsor the Sir Peter Hall Season at the Theatre Royal Bath, and congratulate Sir Peter Hall upon the 20th anniversary of his successful theatre company.

2008 sees the sixth summer residency at the Theatre Royal for Sir Peters Company and Richardson Groves are confident that once again 2008 will bring fantastic fun and culture to one of the country's oldest and most beautiful theatres.
